Services:

color consulting

Interior Color Consulting includes a client interview, assessment of the space (or spaces), assessment of the existing color scheme and furnishings, and assessment of the natural and artificial lighting. Exterior Color Consulting includes a client interview, assessment of the structure, and an assessment of the neighboring structures. From there, a selection of color options is chosen by the designer. Next, the selection is narrowed by both the client and the designer until a final color (or selection of colors) has been chosen. At this point, the client may opt to have the designer proceed with Color Testing (see below).

color testing

Color Testing can be done with either deluxe color samples from the manufacturer (if available) or the preferred method of painting large swatches with the actual paint in strategic locations. These allow the client to view the colors in larger samples in all lighting conditions.

design consulting

Expert design advice and services including space planning, lighting design, kitchen and bath design, furniture selection and placement, window treatments, product/material research and specification, custom cabinetry and built-in design, and custom closet design.

shopping

For clients who want professional assistance with in-store or on-line shopping for furniture, fabric, hardware, lighting, tile, flooring, or any other design product.

drafting + architectural rendering

Drafting services include floor plans, space plans, and elevations. Architectural Rendering services are available for both interiors and exteriors and are extremely helpful to those clients who have difficulty visualizing how a design will look with the proposed changes.

historic preservation consulting

Expert design advice for historically significant spaces/structures from the Craftsman, Victorian, Spanish Revival, Art Deco, and Mid-Century Modern time periods.

eco-friendly paint + materials consultation

Expert design advice on products and materials that are non-toxic and have a low environmental impact, such as low V.O.C. paints, products made from easily renewable resources, and formaldehyde-free products.

Packages:

whole house color consultation

Ideal for the client who is either building from scratch, doing a large remodel, or just wants a complete color make-over for their entire home.

complete room make-over

This service includes a drafted floor plan, space plan, a rendering, and specification sheets for paint, furniture, flooring, window coverings, lighting, accessories, and other products/materials that apply.

Fees are estimated after an initial consultation and determined by the size and scope of project.
